Italy is a country located on the Italian Peninsula in Southern Europe and includes the two largest islands in the Mediterranean Sea, Sicily and Sardinia. Sassari is the most northern of the eight provinces of the Italian autonomous region of Sardinia. The province’s capital is called Sassari also. The people in the province of Sassari (abbreviated SS) speak differently from the rest of Sardinia. Their dialect sounds more like Corsican. The Alghero area speaks a dialect that is somewhat similar to Catalan. The official language is Italian of course, like the rest of Sardinia.

Via Lingua TEFL Training Center

In Sassari, the Via Lingua CTEFL course is run in cooperation with Inlingua Sassari, a well-reputed language school that organizes native-speaker taught language courses during the autumn and winter months for the locals of Sassari, and holds group courses for international travelers from all over Europe who come to Sassari during the spring and summer months for the express purpose of learning Italian. Via Lingua Sassari is a trusted member of an international network of language schools and as such is able to help CTEFL graduates obtain employment with its affiliates worldwide, or even in Sardinia, should a graduate decide to opt for "island living". The school is conveniently located near both public gardens and beaches and is equipped with air-conditioning.

Teaching English in Italy

Enrollment in English language schools continues to increase at a dramatic rate among Italians. Small towns in Sicily and Sardinia all have more than their fair share of private language schools and institutes. As in Spain, a number of organizations run language summer camps.
Food & Clothing

If you do not love Italian food, what on earth are you doing in Italy? Even if you do, however, figuring out where and what to eat in Italy can pose delicious quandaries for the traveler.

Dress in Italy is typical for a Western country. When teaching, be sure to adhere to the local working culture and basic ideas of professionalism. Business Casual is a safe bet.

Climate

The weather in Sardinia is hot and dry in summer, spring and autumn are particularly pleasant and winters are mild and humid with the occasional hot day. The island is surrounded by warm Mediterranean sea and its 1200 miles of coastline sees plenty of sun. Sardinia enjoys 7 hours of sunshine each day in April, rising to 11 hours in July.

Excursions and Cultural Highlights

The Necropoli of Anghelu Ruju: this pre-nuragic complex of tombs is one of the most extensive necropoli in Sardinia, boasting 38 “hypogea”, and one of the most important archaeological sites in the Mediterranean. The complex dates back to the recent neolithic age, 3000 B.C. The architectural evolution of the tombs used by the populations to bury their dead, suggest that some tomb areas were places of cult. Many interesting findings have come from the necropoli, among which small female idols which are on show at the Museum of Cagliari and Sassari.

“I have had so many work offers but I haven’t been able to accept all of them. In fact I am working with different levels such as business English, general English and as a ‘lettrice’ in two state high Schools.”
